

Vampires Everywhere!

"Darkness, Swallows - Me!"

The gray wind heats my face, and pestilence that I smell moving me, death I bring, death I leave seems to whisper and my soul back to feeling lost.

Whimpering souls lash my body, dragged by the dark ancestral wind.

If this was a dream I don't want to awake, still it's memory will be impossible to drag.

Darkness, Swallows - me!... Darkness, Swallows - me!

Now the truth is accepted by me, only remains resignation, everything around me lost it's colour I'm one more soul dragged by the gray wind.
