On the summer night when we met
Just a passing glance, that was a-all you gave me
But a magic power, had me from that hour
And I felt your charm like a mantel enfold me

I tried to forget, all in vane
Ever since I need you like flowers need the dew
Now my loving heart bows to fate in surrender
And forever more I love you

All I need is your bright eyes to shine
While your lips to mine with rapture are pressing
And so now by my side you will stay
And hour already is my greatest blessing

When I'm weary, I'm longing to rest
My head on your breast, my deep love possessing
Your mate, as your my soul, your my fate, your my own
I can only be happy with you

On that summer night when we met (when we met)
Just a passing glance, that was all that you gave me
There and then I fell, 'neith your magic spell
And your fascinator, forever enswayed me

I tried to forget, all in vane
Ever since I need you like flowers need the dew
Now my loving heart bows to fate in surrender
And forever more, I love you
And forever I love..., I love you...
