Born with the heart of a lion
But force fed deprived of free will

Ah! Everything's taken
I'll fight it back!

Robbed of ideas and desires
And instincts are oppressed by will

Ah! Everything is taken, I'll fight it back

Tear down the walls
Let me spirit soar
Bust all the chains
Existence is more than to breathe

I never thought!
That I'd forget my origin!

In allegiance to this earth
Refill the sources of life
I'm thinking back to our values
Our ethics will prosper this time

Were like charrion among the living
And solitude slows down our heartbeat!

Ah! Everything's taken
I'll fight it back!

Roaring with power and passion
And scaring the world with it's teeth
We lost our zeal and ambition
Forgot how to scream out our rage

Tear down the walls
Let me spirit soar
Bust all the chains
Existence is more than to breathe

I never thought!

That I'd forget my origin!

In allegiance to this earth
Refill the sources of life
I'm thinking back to our values
Our ethics will prosper this time
In allegiance to this earth
Refill the sources of life
I'm thinking back to our values
Our ethics will prosper this time

Back to the days
When we were all predators
Willing to fight to claim what's ours!

Back to the days
When we were all predators
Willing to fight to claim what's ours!

Willing to fight to claim what's ours!
