"Let You Fingers Do The Walking"

There is a liquid sky all over the world
Tonight it comes for your body
It comes to set your soul alight
The cards have been dealt
From our hands they will melt
There is a liquid sky all over the world
Tonight

Step out my sweet one and hang loose
Crystal cherry drapes filled who to choose
With the moon rollin' in we can let our dream begin
Step out my sweet one step out and hang loose
Our liquid sky turns me on
It'll speak out my name long after I'm gone
So I give myself in and it'll make me spin and spin
Ah - the liquid sky turns me on
Tonight

Let your fingers do the walking
Can't you see I'm coming
Let you fingers do the walking
