Big, yellow letters on the screen
A cold voice of the machine
We're drifting further away
Nobody knows what to say
And when we ask for a little help from our friend
The only response we get is "Human Decision
Required"
We try again with a little help from our friend
But the only response we get is "Human Decision
Required"
Getting ready for the next phase
Suddenly: explosions near the moon base!
Totally unpredicted
But definitely self-afflicted
And when we ask for a little help from our friend
The only response we get is "Human Decision
Required"
We try again with a little help from our friend
But the only response we get is "Human Decision
Required"
