"Longer Longer"

I missed many people
didn't meet
kissed the blind the poor and the holy thief
longer longer
nights should be
longer longer
our nights could be
certain wounds that never bleed
so things changed
you can't foresee
sometimes gods seem to play with me storms are over
calm is the sea
missed the fire
you hold the key further further
our way we go slow down slow down just let me know so wake the demons of your soul things they changed too fast

you know

certain wounds that never bleed

you give me more

you give it to me

you see the stars the rain

the sun the deep blue sea

longer longer

nights should be

longer longer

our nights could be

wake the demons that you know which gonna change my hungry soul you really want to play with me

so things change you can't foresee

wake the demons of our souls things they change too fast

you know

and please the gods that play with me

son things change you can't foresee

na na na na nanana na
