Changes, as we head in the light
Stressing from fear and fright
Of knowing what is right
Changes, as we head in the night
And we begin our flight
With these drugs in our sight

Timing and structure is what I believe in
And you can believe if you open your eyes
When you have hate for your job youre a heathen
And thats when you start to believe your own lies

(Chorus)
Time cannot spread wings
Time
Time cannot change things
Time
(Repeat)

Would you like to become the president
Well son you can if you open your eyes
Dont live this life with your hate and resentment

Then your whole life is just based on your lies
Remember your skin stretches like mine
Boy, are you damn blind
No one has a head start over the next one
So boy, start spitting your rhymes

Time cannot spread wings
Time
Time cannot change things
Time

Time cannot spread wings
Time
Time cannot change things
Time,
