"The Juice"

It was the day after vacation,
Heading back to school
Roll over, say goodbye
Whisper "I love you".
You've loaded up around the room,
Kept towards the door,
And the phone rang,
The moment came, let be hold in ...
Sometimes it's just chills in the air,
Like I cry without a clue,
And just like that, you got me back
And you, you said "I love you too".
I got my "I love you too"
I got my "I love you too".
Well, I'm gonna squeeze that sweet right of you,
That's when I know I got the juice.

We're roasted at the ceiling
Is what we ought to do.
With Love this mixed up feelings,
Floating 'round the room.
You're like a lost echo hanging in the hills
Tryna find the way back home.
Closer and closer,
Like a skipping stone.
I got my "I love you too"
I got my "I love you too".
Well, it's all I ever wanted from you,
That's when I know I got the juice.

Hanging on that evening
From the time I get so tense,
The roof seem like ages
These walls, I confess.
I got my "I love you too"
Yes, I got my "I love you too".
Oh, I-I was waiting for you
For you To say "I love you too".
