You must have seen me miles away
Cannon weight on a steel blade
The night composed of wires alarms
The enemies agrees to make
All my weapons burnt of stamina
Abused power behind barriers
All the misdemeanors close their eyes
There is nothing you can do
Inside the midnight hits in slow motion
I am war again, I am war again
Make the brutal border lines back out of science
I am war again, I am war again
The uniform inside my mouth
Spits a cave into the virgin world
Glass shattered on the ghost of Gods
Cuts a path where you can find me still Carving fuck yourself on floodlit skin
Reminds me of the war I'm in Camouflaged and cut devoid of life
The conviction read the same dead
Inside the midnight hits in slow motion

I am war again, I am war again

Make the brutal border lines back out of science

I am war again, I am war again

Inside the midnight hits in slow motion

I am war again, I am war again

Make the brutal border lines back out of science

I am war again, I am war again

Inside the midnight hits in slow motion

I am war again, I am war again

Make the brutal border lines back out of science

I am war again, I am war again

I am war again

I am war again

I am war again

I am war again
