sky don't even know my name yet watches over all the same people seem to pass me by as i go on my way hours seem to fly as the word the turns day night years go rollin' by the joy of life is with us everyday just be true all there is to be given will come to you fall from the heavens the things you're due will be yours the rest of your life
do as we do
as we move on through as we go with the flow
through sunday
let the love come through so we stay as we play
on sunday
every morning as i wake hoping good fortune is on its way wondering if anything has changed at the end of the day everything's the same doesn't have to be the case change it, change the place your life is yours to live it as you please
the things you do will be yours
