She assures me things will never change
But I've heard it all before
Still I can't ignore
There is so much I have left to say
But this moment that we're in
Is telling me this could be love

And it feels like rain
Crashing down against my skin
She's tickling my hand and I begin
To slip away and for a night I realize
That no one seems to know I'm missin'

I'm haunted by the thought of what could be
But I can't deny the truth I'm still in love with you
And reminded of the things that we both said
Some of that we meant how could I just forget that

Love came crashing down
Just like rain against my skin
My fingers running through your hair and I began
To slip away and for a night I realized
That no one seems to know I'm missin'

So you've got another lover on your sleeve
But that doesn't bother me
No, I still feel the passion coursing through my veins
'Cause things just ain't the same
Since you pulled me close and spoke my name
And I love your voice
I got no choice but to deal with the cards I've been dealt
Deal with the pain that I felt so many times before
When they kissed me and walked out my life
But my feelings for you they just ain't so easily subdued
So I'm just another trick along the way
It's not what you say but it's what you're feeling Have some fun, came undone, loved until the sun came up
Saw your reflection in my coffee
And I'm still confused 'cause I find such strength in you

And even though you call me your friend
I still think about holding you again in the darkness of the night
With no sense of wrong or right
Felt the fury in your grip
Found passion in the sips of cry
I took one look at you and all my plan of absence fell through
Boy, you didn't even let the body get colder
My loving get old 'cause it never got the chance to grow
So I'm looking at you
Trying to fight these demons
Trying to fight these visions of loving and leaving
'Cause that ain't me
That ain't the girl I intended to be
So we're supposed to be buddies, right?
Party all night, feel the same when you look my way
And I feel that fury coursing through my veins
But the fact remains that this menace is my own making
'Cause I gave it to you for the taking
And all you ever really wanted was a life of music making no heartbreak
And I've never been one that makes excuses for their choices that I make
When I know full well the chances I'm taking
So I can't justify being angry with you
But I can't stop feeling this way
I guess it's just the result of the foolish games

And love came crashing down
Just like rain against my skin
She's tickling my hand and I began
To slip away and for a night I realized
You were everything, everything and more

You came crashing down
Just like rain against my skin
My fingers running through your hair and I began
To slip away and for a night I realized
You were everything in life I wanted
