To feel the warm lights on my skin
To hear a thousand voices cheer for now
I found my own way down
I guess it's all just in my head to find another bittersweet divide
Every moment that I waste on love dark clouds will roll again

(Chorus)

All that I need in this life's right here in front of me
Open my arms to the fear that's inside of me
All that I need in this life's right here in front of me
Taking a chance of a lifetime is all I see
All that I need in this life's right here in front of me

I need the hearts of a thousand strong Control the road I travel on for now until I'm homeward bound
I guess It's all in fate's hands now to find another
bittersweet divide
Every moment that I waste on love dark clouds will roll
again

(Chorus)

And I'll never lose my way
Come on together
Sing it together
Because of you
I'll never lose my way
You set me free

All that I need in this life's right here in front of me
Open my arms to the fear that's inside of me
All that I wanted
All that I needed
Was just to let myself believe in me
