She said, "You got nothing to prove but you've got something to lose
And that something is me"
You got no reason to stay
Say you've been running away but you run like a thief

She wants you
She needs you
A soundtrack to bleed to
But can you shut up long enough to fall in love

She said, "Come on
Just let me breathe
I'm tangling now that you leave
Get me back to myself"
Tried a thousand and one times but the lines are undone
Why not believe what you felt

She wants you
She needs you
A hurricane to leave through
But can you shut up long enough to fall in love

And didn't you hear
There's a time and a place that I won't be going
Time won't erase all you fear

Well you ought to know by now there is no reason to lie
No reason to lie
Yeah
You ought to know by now

She wants you
She needs you
The soundtrack to bleed to
But can you shut up long enough to fall in love
