And then I woke up
Fell in line
Collected my prize
Paid my fine
I couldn't be more ready than this Completely aware Sunkissed

Take me outside and trade this truth for lies

Another one stuck in my head Electric song sings me to bed where I dreamt I took a trip
I think it was to India
I drove 'round in Cadillacs 'til I got lost and never came back

Take me outside and trade this truth for lies

You and I can take a ride if you're going some place I might like
Does it have to make sense all the time?
Do I really have to make up my mind

Take me outside and trade this truth for lies
Take me outside and trade this truth for lies
