I'm done crying about this cold world
I'm here alone in darkness
So might as well live life
To its darkest days
My father murdered my mom
And my brother married a drunken whore
But I don't care anymore
I'm gonna live in the now
Because I'm walking out on my past
All you can do is cry as I walk out of your door

What ever went on yesterday
Is buried in the back of my mind
Now this relationship is dead
We must go our seperate ways

Just watch me run away
Don't even dare chasing me
You pushed me out of your life
I guess you weren't the one I finally see
No wonder your parents are dead
I guess they wanted you out of their head
Because you just can't love a single soul
You just live in the past
And focus on nothing else
But remember this yesterday is fucking dead

I sit alone in my room
Dreaming of you
Dreaming of all the shit you put me through
Now I burying you alive
Everything we use to be will die
So check your pulse
Sweety arn't you dead yet
Another thousand stabs and you'll know what I went through with you
So you better shine a light if you wanna live
I'll show you what a broken heart is like
I'll show you real meaning behind the word goodbye

What ever went on yesterday

Is buried in the back of my mind
Now this relationship is dead
We must go our separate ways

Just watch me run away
Don't even dare chasing me
You pushed me out of your life
I guess you weren't the one I finally see
No wonder your parents are dead
I guess they wanted you out of their head
Because you just can't love a single soul
You just live in the past
And focus on nothing else
But remember this yesterday is fucking dead

I'm nailing the coffin shut
You're now six feet deep
Are you losing your breath
And choking on what used to be
You're getting colder
You're thirty seconds away from death
Can hear the count down
5...4...3...2...1...
What now your hearts stopped beating
Now your breath is fading
Now I'm dancing on your grave
Don't ever come back I'm burying you along with yesterday

Just watch me run away
Don't even dare chasing me
You pushed me out of your life
I guess you weren't the one I finally see
No wonder your parents are dead
I guess they wanted you out of their head
Because you just can't love a single soul
You just live in the past
And focus on nothing else
But remember this yesterday is fucking dead

Whatever went on yesterday
Is buried in the back of my mind
Now this relationship is dead
We must go our separate ways

What now your hearts stopped beating
Now your breath is fading
Now I'm dancing on your grave
Don't ever come back I'm burying you along with
yesterday
