You are the night
And i am the day
In the 17th hour we meet
Whenever i desced in sunset
There you are following
My night so sweet
With the scent of life you fill me
I want to return this love
For it's always spring when you're near
Bringing the serenity of a pure white dove
Yes you do with your love
I am the moon
You are the sun
When daylight breaks soon darknesss will come
It is in this cycle we become one
I am you are me a reflection
When looking i see myself
You are the night
And i am the day
Veil the sky you body
In a blanket of deep blue
So i can uncover undress and complete you
