He told you, you could redeem yourself through the cleansing of his blood.
He told you his prophecy.

But you just looked into his eyes and spat out your faith
You continued your life of running away.

Deeper and deeper his claws rip, your loosing yourself and bleeding from your eyes.
He told his prophecy
But you just looked into his eyes and spat out your faith, you just looked into your eyes, realized you had no place,

And you continued running away from your lies.

Oh how you dare to curse at me, curse at me. x2

Now you fall heavy to your knees, to your knees. x2

The sacrifice is the hidden key, hidden key.

Your bludgeoned body has been left to bleed, left to bleed.

Save yourself it's worth a try.
