Sound The Alarm
"Telling Lies"

At a glance I'd never notice
Could every strand has come undone
And when it comes down
To what I know now, I can see just what's killing me

You can't let go of anyone
Keeping secrets and telling lies is all you've done
You can't let go of what went wrong
If keeping secrets and telling lies is all you want
Just let me go

Wash my hands off your inventions
Cleaning up the mess you've made
The web of lies you've spun, it's strangled everyone but me
'Cos now I'm breaking free

You can't let go of anyone
Keeping secrets and telling lies is all you've done
You can't let go of what went wrong
If keeping secrets and telling lies is all you want
Just let me go

I like to think that from the start
It was you that takes my head apart
You should take what you can get, yeah
Just take what you can get, yeah

I like to think that from the start
It was you that takes my head apart
You should take what you can get, yeah
Just take what you can get, yeah

Can't you let go of everyone?
All the secrets and all the lies have gone too far
Now, I let go of everyone
Keeping secrets and telling lies has gone too far
Just let me go

I like to think that from the start
It was you that takes my head apart
(Just let me go)

You should take what you can get, yeah
Just take what you can get, yeah
(Just let me go)

I like to think that from the start
It was you that takes my head apart
(Just let me go)
You should take what you can get, yeah
Just take what you can get, yeah
(Just let it go)
