"An Unkind"

I wish a wish I dream to dream
I try to try and I live to live
And die to die and I cry to cry
But I know why

Somewhere in my dreams
Things that should
Still the willow weeps
On roses for the dead
In laughs of love

From the likes of her
To time of me
Like to moon to earth
Or the sky to sea
Only were no longer
Allowed to be, to be

Somewhere in the dreams
Of those who should
Live in all the keeps
Echo all the worlds
In laughs of love

For times that pass my life
I'll search for the sky
That she wonders by

Somewhere in the dreams
That the skies hold
Still the willow weeps
On roses for her bed
In laughs of love
