"Longing For A Warm Embrace" i've seen you in my dreams, been talking to you in my sleep, but i am not afraid,

'cause i've got shelter,
i have learned from you,
you set a trap for me,
the biggest trap in history, you put me in a place where i don't wanna be,
i just wanna be in your arms, i love your skin, but,

hey, i've never killed so much time, i've never felt more alone, i'm many light years from home,
i miss my home,
i'm floating in space,
longing for a warm embrace from you,
here i go again,
spoiling another friend,
i can't keep my promises, don't know wrong from right, at least i lie with dignity,
here i go again,
not doing much than pretend,
i wanna stay the same,
don't wanna change
like seasons changing colours, now i'm blue,
afraid of ending up like you,
i'm floating in space,
longing for a warm embrace, from you!
