"The Centre Of The Heart"

What am I gonna do when I get a little excited, a little in pain?

Tell me...

What am I gonna say when I find the centre of the heart
Is a suburb of the brain

You wear them so well, those innocent eyes

You're puttin' on a wonderful disguise

I want you so bad, I'm pushing my luck

It feels like being hit by a truck

And this is no place special

Don't know why I came

If someone has a minute, won't you explain

What am I gonna do when I get a little excited, a little in pain?

Tell me...

What am I gonna say when I find the centre of the heart
Is a suburb of the brain

(brain, brain...)
