Together - together forever -
What's in a word? What's in a dream?
In crimes of the heart words seldom hold all that they seem.
But illusion can make you forget what you knew.
You get careless and then you lower your defenses in all that you do.
You seem una ware of one perfect pair.

Passion and pain - together forever

Passion and pain - together forever.

But who's to blame? It's all the same.
There's no mistake
it's just the time.
For time will steal the way you feel

And your affair's that fatal pair.

Reaching for love
longing for laughter now

You choose to forget all the regret
Following after now.
And you lie to yourself when you say
That you're learning to trust honesty will pay.
Disappointed again when you're back at the start
'Cause you never can part -

Passion and pain - together forever

Passion and pain - together forever.

But who's to blame? It's all the same...
But who's to blame? It's all the same...
