I.

For so long, I'm watching you and admiring you
Always with this same look drown of tears
These words have been slipped out on this parchment
Guided by my hand, with some tears

You hold my breath and I don't find the way to say
All these sweet words that I want to give you

Lost in the dark
I can't built my way
Without knowing who I am

There's something inside my soul
Something that I can't believe
Something that I can't accept

I'm lain here and let fly off my feelings from this pencil
Then I here your voice screaming your pain
When I see you I see someone dragging a painful past behind her
When I hear you I hear my heart asking to give up now

I call you name again and again in this dark night
Crying, screaming and bleeding, I'm losing my way

Lost in a dream
I can't built my way
Without waking up again

There's something inside my heart
Something that I won't believe
Something that I won't accept

For too long I'm in hopness
Hearing voices beging me to do stopping
Trying to persuade me I'll never find my place
But why life always has to break all that we live for?

II.

You are holding my hand between yours
Just to take the time to understand
That one day our ways will move away
And nothing will hold them back

I saw so many tears hield cause you never knew to cry
You never knew to reveal the pain inside your soul

I let you graze my heart this night
Frozen my tears smile to you, flashed by the moon
I often believed everything was lost
I tried to fall asleep to forget this dream

Though now I know you're so far from me
So I give you the last tears I'm shedding on your hands
Though I know you've gone for ever to make your life and never turn away

Listen to these words
Don't hold your tears
I'll leave with everything I have
But you know there's no way I can go without you

I give you my last breath
I give you my last tears
Whispering to you... Stay
Waiting for the sun to come, I'll die for you to stay

III.

Some tears running from my eyes
Night has fallen for few hours
But your name is resounding again and again
Your name is engraved everywhere I go

Leaves are falling from those trees without life
Saying we're just frightened being
So sure, we never give up hopping
To realise our dream the most important

I'm bleeding alone in silence
My hands holding your last image
Your voice holds my breath relentlessly
And your smile makes me feel the light

War song, Love song
Sad song, song of disappear
Awaking a painful childhood
That life has let us

Words from my soul
A verse of poetry
A methafor or an eulogy
To trouble this sentiment
To get up and tell us
It's not too late

I've open the door
And I refuse to close it
You know wish way to take
I'll wait for you in my suffering

Sometimes, I don't have the words to tell you
Sometimes, I can't express my feelings
Cause this silence is drowning me
In wish reflects your reflection
