Look at the Wind
Brushing up your ashes
Settled on my hands

And at least
I breathe
Cause it feels so good to be with you

Take you away
You still deny my pain
And you watch me bleed
But this time
Is the right time
Cause it feels so good

Everyday
I see your face everywhere
Everything
Is the ghost of your shade
Night and day
Each thing remind me
Someone who has been unfairly
Defeated by death

Where has my hope gone?
Where has my bravery gone?
Where has my straight gone?
But I still have the force
To make up my mind
And you'll can't stop me, stop my suicide

Take one last breath
To at least say good bye
But don't find the straight

But this time

Is the right time
Cause it feels so good
Her you are
Watching me alone behind
Left in darkness
You don't even call my name
Watch me die
And you won't believe
That I feel good
I feel so perfect

Where has my hope gone?
Where has my bravery gone?
Where has my straight gone?
But I still have the force
To make up my mind
And you'll can't stop me, stop my suicide

I'll remember you there
Even if you belittle me
I don't hold out much hope
And I hold back from contradicting you
But no one loved you as I did
Never no one loved you as I do

Here you are
In darkness
Watch me die
