I have thought that I've mourned her grave
But today the grave is calling me

You have dropped my hand
And now I'm lost and everything's darker

I still cannot find the word
To tell you how much I'm bleeding
The way to tell you
Don't bear a grudge against me
But you refuse to hear
And you dig my grave

You dig my grave everyday

There's no word to explain the way that I feel now
I'm so ashamed of living and I make you drag my burden

I still cannot find the word
To tell you how much I'm bleeding
The way to tell you
Don't bear a grudge against me
But you refuse to hear
And you dig my grave
