

Salomé de Sainte Maréville

"This Life You Left Behind"

Visit "This Life You Left Behind" on MotoLyrics.com

Can't tell you you're not sadly missed
But I'll say I think back to this time
When I was too young to be aware
That everything could scatter

Whatever what they told you
You've never been forgotten
Whatever what they told me
I've always been all alone

I have to fight since then
Again this life you left behind
Maybe I didn't realize
And I was too weak, just not ready

Will you remember all those pleasures?
This time when you were still laughing?
Will you remember the pain
I feel every day?

But even dying
You never lost your smile
You never conceal your will to live
But though you've forgotten to protect me from this suffering

Can't pass through this day
Too much manhandled
By this life you left behind
You left me behind

Visit Salomé de Sainte Maréville page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.