She appears on the scene
He body is on point and her walk is mean
..They can look, they can't touch, but can only dream
..and he licks his lips
He's inspired by her arrogance
His first words make her body tense
She can't ...
Now she can't help but listen
But she's down to her last deference
..why you're being so persistent?
He says I speak what I want to ...
She never heard a man talk like this Never seen somebody some confident
Driving to the point of death, gets what it wants, even if means no rest.

Chorus:

They say that I can't have you
But I'm right here fighting for you
And I'll stand by your side
Win lose or die!

He left her mouth with the sweetest taste
He left her heart with a warm embrace
He took her mind to another place, and the effects lasted for days!
No ordinary love story exist that could illustrate how this spark was lit
And while this love gave the spirit a lift
The puzzle piece just perfect fits
But as the sunshine came to rain
Pouring down poor clouds of rain
Everything started to change
After that he was never the same!
Step down to the very end
But he left her with the power within
All..blow away with the wind
She was stronger than she ever been.

Chorus:

They say that I can't have you

But I'm right here fighting for you
And I'll stand by your side
Win lose or die!

For the rest of my life (the rest of my life)
I'll have this burning inside
And now you're ready to die
In fact ... keep you with me tonight!

Chorus:

They say that I can't have you
(I remember the first time I saw you)
But I'm right here fighting for you
(I knew you'll be the one)
And I'll stand by your side
(I never let you go)
Win lose or die!

They say that I can't have you
But I'm right here fighting for you
And I'll stand by your side
Win lose or die!
