"7 Miles"

What I have, you've got it bad, but I swear that I've got it worse So you say, I'm running in place but I swear that I'm in reverse

My head hurts a lot these days
I confuse my thoughts with what I say

You say your tired now, you say you're burning out I say we leave today, if you feel the same In just ONE day from now, we'll make it SEVEN miles they say they'll save a place, if we leave today

You can run, but you'd be farther along If you spent the day kneeling

While you're busy, barring the door
They come in through the ceiling
