"Midnight"

Stay, bc we need each other
Can't live without this
Things are always fine, at least most of the time, but

Freeze, then move it further,
Abandon shelter
I have to take this chance you don't understand

Standing in his place, the hours ticking away
He feels safe from harm, and no one can take that away

But she, says he's so sweet, after midnight
But she, says he's so sweet, after midnight

Breathe, then move within me
The warmth of safety
It's all based on lies, you don't realize, and

Stay, because we need each other,
Can't live without this

Stay, STAY
