will you be scared with me, snared with me are you prepared for me change the locks alarms go off, make them all aware of me move with me dance with me, take a chance with me live 100,000 years, hardly even glance at me

Im a mindreader, but I cant read your mind there are bottom feeders, at the windows tonight theres a superhero waiting for the mask to come off as we sing empty metaphors will you believe with me breathe with me grit your teeth and breath with me block the pain, douse the flames that burn you when you dream of me rush to me sink with me, fight sleep and think of me walk along the waters edge take my hand and drink with me
