lets talk together, about the past its always been there, but you never asked I want to scream when youre close to me its obscene, that you dont love me as forever, locks in place forever, well rest in peace

I talk but you dont listen, you cant help this mess that Im in youre laughing and Im drowning I stood up, you looked the other way my muscles ache from smiling, Im young but I am dying Im just a single drop in your ocean,

you looked the other way

get close to me again
