"opening night"

I think I found a way, to get out of this place well have to leave tonight everything looks strange act ordinary now, well slip on out of site hey hey hey hey ahey hey hey could have saved yourself a little pain gotta learn to look both ways who knew youd wake up blind today if I survive, this opening night theres no time to waste and no words left to say so theres no need to talk

the past disintegrates, the road is taking shape, beneath us as we walk
