Standing overlooking the scenery
All that you can see.
Heart and your mind reach out to meet me.
Test the waters but you're on your guard
You're the overlord
But you know if you take one step you're overboard.

All that might have been
All that entered in
All that mattered most
All that love had cost

You could have been the only one, the only one, for me.

Coldly inventory what's at stake
What to give and what to take
Can you find anything that will take my place.
Check the mirror not a thing's amiss
I have no heart for this
I touch you once and then I'm dismissed.

All that might have been
All that entered in
All that mattered most
All that love had cost

You could have been the only one,
the only one, for me.

Try
Try
Try
keep it all inside of me
