(Verse 1)

A bullet shot in the chest brought the fucking angel down
From helplessness to recklessness now you're left to be found
Left to bleed and stain the earth, tears are proof that you are hurt
Trust me, you're not the only one, I was lying at the crime scene beside a Gun
I pray that god has mercy on the people who abandoned me
They were too blind to see that I was missing piece
To a puzzle I guess they replaced me, with another 2 sisters and a brother, taken away from our mother

(Chorus)

How do you heal a broken heart?
I can feel your pain; I know just where you are Because I've been there before, I'm living proof Because I've been there too

(Verse 2)

I feel the pain in my chest every time I fucking breathe Those deep down dark memories they just keep on hunting me
They keep reminding me what happen (happen)
Everything about it was so tragic (tragic) But I know you're just like me, praying to god down on your knees
That nothing happens to again like before (before)
Now you are scared of what's on the other side before you open that door (Open that door)
I'm referring to life and the people, because you know sometimes there's Evil
Hope lives inside my heart but tragedy rips it apart

(Chorus)

How do you heal a broken heart? (A broken heart)

I can feel your pain, I know just where you are Because Iâ€™ve been there before, Iâ€™m living proof
Because Iâ€™ve been there too

(Chorus)

How do you heal a broken heart? (A broken heart)
I can feel your pain; I know just where you are Because Iâ€™ve been there before, Iâ€™m living proof
Because Iâ€™ve been there too
