People say I got to let you go
But do they see what I see
They just criticize and fantasize it's wrong
I know you know we've made mistakes
The world's an imperfect place
But we make the best of what we got that's love

Let's not forget about our promises
Nobody can take away what we have
Laugh away the pain wash away the stains
We won't have to live to regret it
Just remember all the times
We shared we'll make it

No one can take me
No one can take me higher
You elevate me
You will always take me higher
You always take me
