And the old man sits there under the moon
Bloody fingers strummin' a guitar out of tune
No sense of touch and the man can't see
Blind as the devil is to me
The mask he wears it hides his eyes
Blind yet he sees more than I
You say, nothin's gonna last forever
But you still cling to me
You know, we can always be together
But you turn the page to breath
Repeat
And the old man sits there under the moon
Bloody fingers strummin' a guitar out of tune
No sense of touch and the man can't see
Blind as the devil is to me
The mask he wears it hides his eyes
Blind yet he sees more than I
