"Longest Winter"

Snow painted the garden white
All sleeps underneath
Write your name with some sticks I found
Seems all that remains... of you

Nobody told me we would fall this far apart
And we wanna hide in the silent memories
Nobody told me it was gonna be this hard
To be spending the longest winter alone

Wind finds his way through the cracks
I let it freeze my thoughts
'Cause I can't turn the page just yet
I still want to belong... to you

Nobody told me we would fall this far apart
And we wanna hide in the silent memories
Nobody told me it was gonna be this hard
To be spending the longest winter now

Nobody told me we would fall this far apart
And we wanna hide in the silent memories
Nobody told me it was gonna be this hard
To be spending the longest winter alone
