You slip into my phone on Friday night
I'm looking for a way to cross the bridge to your side
'cause

Girl you guide me to a place I long forgot
The way you whisper in my ear

I've sung about your silver smile and I've dreamed about these golden days
I love how you ease my mind
And clear the road from holes

Remember on the last day of the year
I took your hand and pulled you near
The sky lit up and vanished all our fears
You danced with me and fell into another year

You sneak into my room on Sunday night
Your lips explore my chest when I turn off the light
And we escape into a lovely sensual dance
And we sing our sweet duets

At night when I'm wrapped round you
And entangle my dreams with yours
I break down my walls for you
And pray this seasons lasts

Remember on the last day of the year
I took your hand and pulled you near
The sky lit up and vanished all our fears
We danced into another year when my valley is filled with rain my dear

The drops won't wash away my tears
We float upon the waves into another year

Oooh do you
Remember on the last day of the year
I took your hand and pulled you near
The sky lit up and vanished all our fears
You danced with me and fell into another year
