So pathetic, throwing roses at my window
Like I'd just forget it
I know where you've been
You're telling me how you got stuck
While you're shaking up your pickup truck
With some jam night groupie

You can crawl back here with your face full of tears
Tryin' to pull my strings but it don't mean a thing
'cause...

You're way too late
Too late for the promise you made
For another head game or fighting in the rain
Too late for your little white fence or another last dance
You don't get another chance with me
Too late 'cause your bottle's gone dry
Too late, all I want is goodbye from you-oooo-oooo

I hacked your Facebook and posted up your naughty pictures
Changed your passwords and maxed your cards out
I stole your keys and jacked your wheels
And rolled it in the river
Singin' "Who's sorry now"

You can crawl back here with your face full of tears
Tryin' to pull my strings but it don't mean a thing
'cause...

You're way too late
Too late for the promise you made
For another head game or fighting in the rain
Too late for your little white fence or another last dance
You don't get another chance with me
Too late 'cause your bottle's gone dry
Too late, all I want is goodbye from you-oooo-oooo

I strapped on my guitar and cried this song out to the sky
Now I'm blasting through your radio, yea baby I survived

Don't cross my line, don't wast my time
Don't tell me lies, just say goodbye, goodbye

You're way too late
Too late for the promise you made
For another head game or fighting in the rain
Too late for your little white fence or another last dance
You don't get another chance with me
Too late 'cause your bottle's gone dry
Too late, all I want is goodbye from you-oooo-oooo

You're way too late
Too late for the promise you made
For another head game or fighting in the rain
Too late for your little white fence or another last dance
Get back, 'cause you're way too late
Too late 'cause your bottle's gone dry
Too late, all I want is goodbye from you-oooo-oooo
You're way too late
