The rain is falling down
I feel like a dog that's been kicked out into the street
I know that dogs can't drive cars
But that's about the only difference between us now

But wait, there's a rainbow across the freeway
And I think I feel the morning sun
Another song is number one
Golden days have just begun

Change every dog is gonna have his day
Change every loser's gonna have his way
Change I don't care what other people say

You can argue all day long about whether love really exists or not
It's a complete waste of time
Like arguing about whether Santa Claus really exists or not
I've got better things to do with my time

I've got places that I've got to be
And people that I've to see
Mountains that I have to ski
Golden days ahead of me

Change every dog is gonna have his day
Change every loser's gonna have his way
Change I don't care what other people say
Change just ignore them and they'll go away

Paradise was here, paradise is gone Greece and Rome were here, Greece and Rome are gone
The Wild West was here, the Wild West is gone
Vaudeville was here, Vaudeville is gone

Change every dog is gonna have his day
Change every loser's gonna have his way
Change I don't care what other people say

You know I've been thinking

We'll get back together again someday
Your hair will be some weird color by then Maybe we'll just start off again as friends, I wonder when

Change every dog is gonna have his day
Change every loser's gonna have his way
Change I don't care what other people say
Change just ignore them and they'll go away

Change every dog is gonna have his day
Change every loser's gonna have his way
Change I don't care what other people say
Change just ignore them and they'll go away
