I Traded In My Horse For A Harley

By Danney Ball

I've had my share of troubles, in the saddle
But I love the way the wind blows through my hair.
And when i tried to gallop off, like in the movies,
Those cool young cowboys sing the old gray mare (Hey jimmy!)

I never thought I'd ever give up ridin
Never thought of anything to take it's place
To that i said baloney, then I traded in my pony
Now the wind is still a blowin past my face

I traded in my horse for a harley
My cowboy friends all think I lost my mind
But this motor scooter also has a saddle
Two big ol wheels, and lots of gears to drive

I join the pranks of all those midnight riders,
Who put down all the straps and spurs and guns
Brush off that roundup dust if now a riding
On Down the road on Harley Davidsons

Equestriatics always make me nervous,
And rodeo'n never was my style
But then I grabbed that great big bite and kick it over
That first big roar just sorta makes me smile

My horsey never liked to ride us double
But its way too cold to always ride apart
And now you know just where to find me cause your sittin right behind me
And I love to feel the beatin of your heart

I traded in my horse for a harley
My cowfolk friends all think i lost my mind
But this motor scooter also has a saddle
Two big 'ol wheels and lots of gears to drive

I join the pranks of all those midnight riders
Who put down all the straps and spurs and guns

Brush off that roundup dust if now a riding
On Down the road on Harley Davidsons

I traded in my horse for a harley
My cowfolk friends all think i lost my mind
But this motor scooter also has a saddle
Two big 'ol wheels and lots of gears to drive

I join the pranks of all those midnight riders
Who put down all the straps and spurs and guns
Brush off that roundup dust if now a riding
On Down the road on Harley Davidsons
Yeah..
On Down the road on Harley Davidsons
Whoo hoo!
On Down the road on Harley Davidsons
