You are, you are my daisy, you're my lullaby
Come sun up my dogs will fade to Honeysuckle and clear moonshine
She was, she was my black earth

And the fire in my spine
Her magnetic waves gave birth
I was the one who loved you most
But you can't put your arms around a ghost

Some sweet day you will be mine
You'll be mine
Some sweet day you will be mine
You'll be mine

We can, we can go home soon
Over the cold old sea
Her lover is in the old moon
Oh, to kiss her knobby knees

Know she's laughing underwater
Her pain's gone away
We drank whiskey like our fathers
Born to return back to the clay
My love for you girl will never decay

Some sweet day you will be mine
You'll be mine
Some sweet day you will be mine
You'll be mine

Where did you go up to the sun?
Where are you now?
Part of the sea in every drop
Or did you simply stop?

Some sweet day you will be mine
You'll be mine
Some sweet day you will be mine
You'll be mine
