[INGMAR BERGMAN:]

And as Garbo and I entered the theater, I felt a sense of both

calm and expectation.

You, dear listener, have been very patient with me.

Thank you for listening to my story.

You may be relieved to know the story is soon coming to an end.

What is strange is that the story has almost a Hollywood ending.

A Hollywood ending!

I sat in the dark with Miss Garbo and watched her glorious

Swedish film, the two of us alone in the small theater.

And when the film was over and the lights went on, she was gone.

I slowly walked toward the exit and out onto the street.

A familiar street.

A street in Sweden.
