It's time again
To take it up with me my dear
I'm counting down your sins
This double standard lettering is getting
Way to thin to hold the weight of
The blinding lights and the masquerade us
The curtains up so settle in
The doors are locked
Let this show begin
You're standing right before me
And you're wondering in your clothes
You couldn't keep a secret
So this whole damn town knows
Please stick around
(Please stick around)
I'll tell you how
(Listen to his tale)
You're a disaster
(Disaster)
You're a disaster
(Disaster)
You played your role
So convincingly the extras fell in love I'm told
They bought every line and every ticket sold
The villain looks way too much like me
I learned your lines in fury
It's easier to write me off when it's your story
You're standing right before me
And you're shaking in the cold
You couldn't keep a secret
So you've got nothing to show
Please stick around
(Please stick around)
I'll tell you how
(Listen to his tale)
You're a disaster
(Disaster)
You're a disaster
(Disaster)
I don't sleep well
(I don't sleep well)

You're broken bow
(Please stick around)
You're a disaster
(Disaster)
You're a disaster
(Disaster)
I hope the chase is worth the loss
I hope he tastes as bad as I feel
Dropped your name from my vocabulary
At least 'til next year, At least 'til next year
This whole God damned town knows
This whole God damned town knows
Please stick around
(Please stick around)
I'll tell you how
(Listen to his tale)
You're a disaster
(Disaster)
You're a disaster
(Disaster)
I don't sleep well
(I don't sleep well)
You're broken bow
(Please stick around)
You're a disaster
(Disaster)
You're a disaster
(Disaster)
