This is my confession of things I've kept inside Secrets I've tried to hide from you, you never suspect it.

They've been carefully contained, I respectfully restrained the truth....

But now I can't hide it anymore, I can't deny it anymore.
I'm in love with you and I don't care who knows and it shows...

That I have wanted you for so long, and now all of my
strength is gone
I can't keep these feelings locked up in my soul.....

So this is my confession, my heart without disguise Undressed and open wide to you I've abandoned the protection
That has quietly concealed all that I now reveal to you.

For now I can't hide it anymore, I can't deny it anymore.
I'm in love with you and I don't care who knows and it shows...

For I have wanted you for so long, and now all of my
strength is gone
I can't keep these feelings locked up in my soul.....

What ever your reaction I will fearlessly without a reservation
tell honestly
That I have wanted you for so long, and now all of my
strength is gone
I can't keep these feelings locked up in my soul.....

So this is my confession...
