Most of the consequences
Forced themselves on me,
Strange how the relevance
Has died and gone away.

Now I can see the difference in your eyes,
Without love,
And I can see the seething hate inside,
Without love.

I gave up everything for you
This time I won't try Never thought I'd see the day where I'd let hope pass me by.

Now I can see the difference in your eyes,
Without love,
And I can see the seething hate inside,
Without love.

They wont see it your way cause you walked away from me
And they wont see it your way and give you their sympathies

Now I can see the difference in your eyes,
Without love,
And I can see the seething hate inside,
Without love.

Now I can see the difference in your eyes,
Without love,
And I can see the seething hate inside,
Without love
