I suffocate memories to sand and stone,
I celebrate the freedom to stand alone.

I am nothing here without you,
I am nothing here without you,
I am nothing here without you,
I am nothing here without you.

Praise the silence and I know I'll be okay
I know there's nothing else to say
Let the winter take a hold for all that's there,
Cannot see very far through the trees let me stay.

I'll never change, embrace the darkest hours
The sun will rise and seep through to burn my eyes

I am nothing here without you,
I am nothing here without you,
I am nothing here without you,
I am nothing here without you.

Praise the silence and I know I'll be okay
I know there's nothing else to say
Let the winter take a hold for all that's there,
Cannot see very far through the trees let me stay.

I am nothing here without you,
I am nothing here without you,
I am nothing here without you,
I am nothing here without you.

Praise the silence and I know I'll be okay
I know there's nothing else to say
Let the winter take a hold for all that's there,
Cannot see very far through the trees let me stay
