The laying of the table (done)
Tie, suit, and an overcoat
You should stop lying to me

Let's have a drink while you're still standing (tall)
How far your words can send her You'd rather bottle up your needs

Tired eyes are staring at the wall
they have already seen it all
It wont stop, the universe keeps spin us
round and round
Shadows crawls the floor
Time is knocking at your door
Torygan
Shut yourself in to avoid reflections of the past

Now clear this table, we are (done)
Your tears tasted very well Did you add feelings to these?

Tired eyes are staring at the wall
they have already seen it all
It wont stop, the universe keeps spin us
round and round
Shadows crawls the floor
Time is knocking at your door
Torygan
Shut yourself in to avoid
reflections of the past
