The morning sun is creeping in I wake and dont know where i am
I keep moving on

I take a breath
I look around
I see the boxes on the ground
I keep moving on

Another picture taken from a frame another city but they are all the same

Im easy come and easy go and anywhere the wind may blow Thats where i belong
I keep moving on

Its time to close another door and dont know what im searching for Remind me remind me
Every time I run away
I pray that someone somethings got to find me remind me
Cuz i was born in vagabond Never stay for any one whether right or wrong
I keep moving on

another city but theyre all the same

Its time to close another door
dont know what im searching for
Remind me remind me
Every time I run away
I pray that someone somethings got to find me remind
me

I was born in vagabond
never stay for anyone
Whether right or wrong
I keep moving on

I keep moving on
