She thinks she's got a power bat
But thanks her soul to think about that
They're waiting for the truth to hit
And no one wants to deal with it

She thought so hard she bled all over
They use weapons to take you over
Take away your mind for a couple of years
She takes (something)
For this heart in grace

Take you over
Take you over
Take me over
Take you over

I'm walking down to the top of the city
You can see your head from the top of the city
Big and ugly and it looks so pretty
Good therapy when you're feeling shitty

I'm walking down to the top of the city
You can see your head from the top of the city
Wait for the cold to smash you in the face
You'll see me in there
Everything you hate

Take you over
Take me over
Take you over
Take me over
